

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L)

Battle with Suspended Stock

- DLA is working SDRs w/Disposition Instructions
- DLA is starting to follow-up on SDRs at

Joint Approach to Resolution

- DLA Distribution works with Services - Obtain disposition and identify root cause
- Made strides in obtaining disposition
- Challenge is getting to root cause
- Navy/DLA CPI - subset of IPT
- Investigating PDC to automate SDR follow-ups

Un-issuable Materiel

DLA Distribution

DLA Supply Chain

Service Supply Chain

Background: Large amount of stock that can not be issued due to discrepancies identified by DLA Distribution.

Opportunity: Partnership between DLA/Service Supply Chains to gain disposition (DRMO, PPP&M, etc.) and reduce causes that require stock to be suspended.

Benefits: Place materiel back into issuable condition, fill backorders, reduce storage footprint and related handling costs, prevent re-procurement, & increase order effectiveness.

J,K,L Dollar Value as of March, 2012

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L)

Each line represents the J,K,L Combined $ Value in millions for the Service

$ Value Trend by Service

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L) Baseline Trend

Trend for Air Force

The charts depict progress against the initial baseline from May 2011 but do not include any new SDRs/SQCRs created since then.

of Air Force SDRs

$ Value of Air Force SDRs

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L) Baseline Trend

Trend for Army

The charts depict progress against the initial baseline from May 2011 but do not include any new SDRs/SQCRs created since then.

of Army SDRs

$ Value of Army SDRs

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L) Baseline Trend

Trend for Navy

The charts depict progress against the initial baseline from May 2011 but do not include any new SDRs/SQCRs created since then.

of Navy SDRs

$ Value of Navy SDRs

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L) Baseline Trend

Trend for USMC

The charts depict progress against the initial baseline from May 2011 but do not include any new SDRs/SQCRs created since then.

of USMC SDRs

$ Value of USMC SDRs

Reduce Suspended Stock

Un-issuable Materiel (CC J/K/L) Baseline Trend

Trend for DLA

The charts depict progress against the initial baseline from May 2011 but do not include any new SDRs/SQCRs created since then.

of SMS SDRs

$ Value of SMS SDRs

Reduce Suspended Stock